AN OPTIMUM ITERATION FOR THE MATRIX POLAR DECOMPOSITION

A. A. DUBRULLE†

Abstract. It is shown that an acceleration parameter derived from the Frobenius norm makes Newton’s iteration for the computation of the polar decomposition optimal and monotonic in norm. A simple machine-independent stopping criterion ensues. These features are extended to Gander’s formulas for full-rank rectangular matrices.

Key words. Matrix polar decomposition, Newton iteration.

AMS subject classifications. 65F30, 65F35.

† na.dubrulle@na-net.orl.gov